

Among Humans

when I travel among humans I get so surprised some would love to get to know you some just close their eyes but I knew with my eyes open you would be my girl

so I wander where the sun shines that beauty
on my world

when I travel among humans I get so amazed some are passionate some enlightened some just lost in a haze

but I knew with my eyes open you would help me see as I wander by the river I can hear my own true lover being free

*it's in the number it's in the name
it's in the way you play it out beyond the game*

it's in the heartache it's in the song

it's in the pine tree wind dissolving through your skin

when I travel among humans
I get so confused
we've got so much yeh, we could share it we could be here to choose and I knew with my eyes open you would be my friend

as we wander hand in hand tell me do you see a plan around the bend

Paul Laurent Lauzon